Dear all

Attached you find two short documents (in german and english), one commenting on the ridiculous and scandalous appeal decision, which is moving into a kind of generic and abstract reasoning as there is no fact, proof or rule of law to condemn Stephan. Of course they were forced into this by the rigorous objections of Stephan's lawyer's. Unfortunately, this has so far not helped a lot as the first two courts have operated in a environment free of any rule of law. We still hope for the Cassazione of applying such rules.

The second document gives basic key messages about the whole issue.

You can use and distribute both documents as you wish.

Best regards, Frank
